Upcoming Meetings

The October General Meeting will be on Sunday, October 29th. Please see the announcement on page 4 for details.

Hello TCVCC Members and Friends!!

Hard to believe it is October already. Seems like the summer heat would never ease up, but the rain we have been experiencing has at least cooled it down a bit. Our September General Meeting was a nice cruise down to the Resurrection Muscle Cars shop in Palm Beach. What a fantastic shop they have. And the variety of cars being worked on was amazing. Read about it and check out the photos later on in this newsletter.

So, Fall is here and it is time to start getting our membership renewals in the works. Along with this newsletter you will receive a downloadable renewal form to print out and mail back to Ann Ridle. Note that your AACA renewal form is included in the latest edition of your Antique Automobile magazine and should be mailed directly to AACA, not to Ann. Or you can renew your AACA Membership on line at AACA.org. Renewals are due by January 1st.

We are also attempting to get a head start on the Roster for next year. Your memberships, (both TCVCC and AACA) must be paid up to be included in the roster. If you want your picture in the roster and are happy with the picture from this year's roster, no need to do anything. If you wish to add or change your picture, please come to one of the next few General Meetings and have Ann Ridle take your picture.

It's time to sign up for the Annual Stuart Veteran's Day Parade. The parade will take place on Saturday, November 11th. Please sign up with Denny Dahle at koda06@bellsouth.net no later than October 30.

Only one month until our COOL show on November 5th. We are still in need of volunteers to get involved with various activities. Areas where we need help: Parking, Set up and Take Down, and Clean Up. Please contact Denny Dahle or Sally Franklin to see where you can help. There are lots of opportunities to help out regardless of your abilities. Thank you in advance for your help.

See you on the road! Sally

September General Meeting

September 23, 2023

Photos curtesy of Andre Rayman, Jay Smith and others

For the September General Meeting, the group met up at the Cracker Barrel for the back roads drive to West Palm Beach.

The drive to Resurrection Muscle Cars was very nice, with the weather and the traffic being almost perfect. Many of us drove our old cars so it was nice to get them out to stretch their legs.

Once there, the staff took good care of us and showed us all the projects they are working on, taking the time to explain what was happening to each car.

After the tour, the group headed to the Pirate's Well for lunch. Everyone headed out except for one car that decided it was done for the day. Dick and Molly Hoffman's Lincoln Continental would not start. The guys at the shop were kind enough to help try to get it started and diagnose the problem. In the end, Dick and Molly decided to leave the car there for repair and Larry and I took them in our Falcon to the restaurant for lunch.

We had a good lunch and meeting and then everyone headed home. It was a fantastic day for a drive.

For more pictures from the meeting, please click HERE.

If you didn't make this meeting, please plan to attend the October meeting. Details on page 3.

Denny Dahle's 1952 F-1 Pickup

By Michael S. Palmer

Denny Dahle paid $50 in 1968 to buy Grandpa's 1952 F-1 and has owned it for 55 years. Along the way, he spent four and a half years turning it into a better-than-new, museum-quality, award winner.

Most enthusiasts lose touch with their first truck or car. Not Denny Dahle. He bought his Vermillion red 1952 F-1 in 1968 and has owned it for 55 years. Today, the F-1 is a museum-quality show truck worthy of magazine covers (and blog posts). But 71 years ago, it was just a work truck.

Here's a look back at the journey Denny and his first truck have taken...

In 1952, Alfred Dahle needed a work truck for his northern Wisconsin sawmill. So he went to a Ford dealership and paid $1,459 for this 1952 F-1 half-ton pickup. The base price that year was $1,361, to which Alfred added the upgraded Magic Air heater for $62.40. (Wisconsin winters are no joke.) And, since he wanted something strong enough for towing around the property, he also paid $35.60 for the 8RT truck engine option, which is the iconic 239 cubic-inch flathead V8. Good for 110 American horsepower. The paint code for Vermillion Red was N.

Alfred's F-1 spent over a decade in constant use on the 10-acre property, towing machinery, transporting gear and employees, and making deliveries through hot summers, frozen winters, and everything in between. Garage queen, it was not.

Right around 1960, if our math is correct, Alfred's grandson Denny, started working at the family business alongside his father and grandparents, who also lived on the property. At that time, Denny was a mighty 8-year-old who spent his childhood growing up around machines. Learning how they worked. How to fix them. How to maintain them. Along the way, the ole '52 became the first vehicle Denny ever drove.

One day, as he tells the tale, Denny was walking through the yard and saw the F-1 sitting there, tired and unused. So he asked his Grandpa if he could have it. To which Alfred Dahle said, "no." But he offered to sell it to Denny for $50. This was 1968, and Denny was 16. He didn't realize it at the time, but later understood Grandpa Alfred was teaching Denny an important lesson, "If you pay for something, you take care of it." Care for the F-1, Denny certainly did. But its rough life as a full-time work truck and first truck for a teenager had taken a toll.

Member Stories

Denny finished restoring his F-1 in 2017. The process took a staggering four and a half years. "Every nut, bolt, washer, and clip's been sandblasted, primed, and painted. Everything. Rebuilt the front suspension, the rear end, the brakes, springs, everything." Denny, with all of his machine shop experience from his sawmill days, did almost all of the work. This included reupholstering the bench seat after three shops turned him down. (He says it wasn't too hard — sunshine and a good set of hog-ring pliers really helped.) He even makes his own rare Ford parts that have been discontinued for decades, selling them around the world.

In fact, the only things he didn't do were the engine block's machinework and the Vermillion Red paint job, which Denny wanted to have factory-like paint with orange peel and all.

The results? Denny's 1952 F-1 is nearly perfect, according to the Antique Automobile Club of America \(AACA\). Denny says it scored a 390 out of 400 possible points. The detail work is nothing short of extraordinary. Correct NOS (new old stock) glass headlight lenses, correct screws, a factory-optional fire extinguisher, NOS keys, a locking gas cap, you name it. The F-1 now even sports the underhood light, which was a $1 option in 1952. (Denny paid about $130.)

With everything just as it should be, what could possibly be "wrong" with this F-1?

Well, he had the wrong sparkplugs, for starters. But ended up swapping in the correct set.

So problem fixed there.

But there was one other feature Denny was proud to leave incorrect. Apparently, the bed boards are supposed to be painted body color or black, but Denny elected to keep them a natural wood finish because, "those boards, just like this truck, came from my Grandpa's sawmill. My dad and I milled them together in 1970 in the milling portion of the mill." Denny told the AACA judges that he was a third-generation mill worker and to ding him the 10 points, he didn't care.

Denny also bored the 239ci flathead V8 up to 241ci, but don't tell the AACA. (Wink.)

The result, which cost roughly $35,000, is a museum-quality show truck that has won over 65 awards, runs great, and remains a Dahle family heirloom. A truck that, for its seven decades on this planet, has only known two owners. Grandfather and grandson.

Well done, Denny. Well done.

Market On Main Car Show

By Sally Franklin, photos curtesy of Andre Rayman

On Sunday, September 24th, the No Name Car Club, in conjunction with Stuartmainstreet.org, Market on Main, held a small show at Flagler Park in downtown Stuart. Several club members were there, enjoying the riverside location. It was a nice day with only a light shower to dampen the activites.

Andre Rayman was there with one of his GTO's.

I had the Nash Metropolitan there and was joined by our friend Harry and his Nash from Melbourne.

Raul and Tanya Colletta brought their VW Beetle along with some friends.

Larry Atkins had the Thunderbird out for a cruise.

Denny and Charlene Dahle were there with the F-1.

Show entries were limited to 25 cars, but many more showed up to line the street outside the park.

To see more pictures from the show, click HERE.
